This lovely Sunday morning "Old Glory" is waving at the Community Hall. First time out since November 1976. Now I can tell when the wind is blowing. There was some paint off the flag pole in several places but that is to be expected after the winter of 1977. Joe Kallowski is painting his house inside and outside in Connecticut. Maybe he will save a drop for the flag pole, and I'll ship up the pole.

Phil Hyam receives the award of the week. He moved all the timbers and lumber from O'Hearns' yard and cleaned it all up good. Our hats off to him and his "boys". A job well done.

Joe Barrett had a birthday party April 16 when his nieces, Mrs. Dolly Ippolito and husband, Alphonse, of Newton, Mass., and Mrs. Geraldine Manning and husband, John, of Dorchester, Mass., came and visited and brought gifts. They went on to Rumbold to spend the night and visit relatives, then stopped for a short visit Sunday as they were on their way home. For once we were glad that Monday was a holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. "Root" Lawrence went with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Norway, to Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Emery's, Mechanic Falls, April 17, for a feed of lobsters and clams and maybe a few parsnips for good measure. Callers at the Lawrence's, Maureen, Sherry, Brenda Millett, Karen Hakala, Greenwood City.

Schools are on vacation this week and there are fishing poles galore, but haven't seen any fish yet.

Mrs. Leona Yeaton and Lucius Newton went to Togus Saturday to see her son, Clarence Seavey.

I forgot that the mail man would come by Monday so I didn't put the news in the box so the General and I rode to Bethel Tuesday and delivered them. The news must get through.

We extend the sympathy of the neighborhood to the family of Henry Lawrence who was killed in a tragic accident at the Oxford Plains raceway April 17 when he was hit in the head by a metal post. His father, the late Kenneth Lawrence, was a former resident here and his uncle, "Root" Lawrence, lives here.

There was a two car accident on the curve near the Hart's Monday, 3 p. m. Douglas Zinchuk and Spring is like autumn, a season for bypaths and side roads. Thoroughfares and turnpikes save time, but at times it is good to turn aside from these paved ribbons and follow country roads and lanes. On these roads wait the little farms; places to turn aside for glimpses down a different path; to look, feel, hear, and to ponder. You find orchards, pastures, deep woods, friendly hills and a valley fair.

The few warm days brought many changes, melted the snow like magic from hills to form flowing brooks I had not yet seen. The larger streams resented of the lower places. Everywhere that I walked there was the sound of running water. I listened to hear its quiet contented song.

The pussy willows have clothed their sober gray with flecks of gold and have grown in size. We know when these plump dots make patterns in the sunshine a new season approaches.

My arbutus has developed a few buds. Soon it will trail its pale pink flowers.

Mornings, I hear the vivacious outpouring of the song sparrows. Phoebe adds his note outside my bedroom window. Several years a pair has nested under the eaves.

Two gulls came sweeping in to explore the ponds. They are no longer riders of winter winds but came circling in the sunlight on their errand between water and sky. They walked in drowsy silence as the ducks have done on the edge of the thin ice.

One morning I looked out over the pond and saw the osprey. It flapped rather slowly then sailed and soared. It hovered high over the water. I hoped to see it plunge for a fish but it flew away on flexible wings, resembling the flight of the Blue Heron.

The most interesting sight was the dance of the woodcock. He appeared on our lawn at mid-forenoon which is unusual for they are more often seen in the evening. Although I have seen them while out walking I had never seen one put on a show as this one did. He bowed repeatedly, strutted about and at times spread his wings then his tail like a turkey-cock. He stayed for some time coming closer to the house occasionally pushing his long beak his Bronco and a station wagon or van. Doug had two or three scratches and I don't know how the other fellow looked. Cars were pretty well stove up, and how was your holiday?

Mr. and Mrs. Vernor Hart observed their 16th wedding anniversary and Mr. and Mrs. Neal Cohen observed their first anniversary on the week end and what lovely weather.

into the sod then again pointing it toward the sky. I presume if I had gone out I might have heard his nasal PEEENT. But his song in flight is a warbling, twittering whistle.

One afternoon I left the road to go to Turtle Bridge, weather grayed and splinter planked, it spans a fast moving brook. As I neared it, drowsing in the mellow sunshine, I wondered if the jurtles were out. Something was, for I heard a move into the water as I approached but I didn't see what it was. The place had a quiet all its own.

Deer tracks told me they, too, had been out enjoying the beauty and adding to it with their grace. Another handsome chap startled me from beside the road. He was feeling the thrill of the awakening world. I can picture him as he stood with rounded chest, short stubby legs, bright beady eyes, and epaulets covering his shoulders. He made quite a commotion when he flew from the ground. Whirroosh, he went from right beside me. Up I went, too! For a couple of seconds I competed with the cow that jumped over the moon. Mr. Partridge looked pleased.

I looked each day for the fragile-looking, enamel-like flowers, the hepaticas. I welcome these tiny newcomers with especial joy, not only for their delicate beauty, but because they are usually the first of all the flowers upon the scene. If we rule out the skunk-cabbage and I have never found one of those near hear. I found no hepaticas.

Now I again faced the wind, the sun at my left, the mountains ahead and journeyed home. "Where nature walks my feet would go

To country lanes where violets grow.
A distant hill, a meadow green,
A flowing brook I've not yet seen,
A golden sun, a sky so blue
With fluffy clouds a-stealing through."

Real Estate
by PAT EARLY
REALTOR

The Importance of Location

Any Realtor will tell you that the three most important factors concerning the value of a house are: "Location, Location, and Location." Unfortunately, most home buyers ignore this important advice.

Location is especially vital when buying a house for maximum resale value. Statistics say that you will be reselling your home long before the final mortgage payment is in the mail. Therefore, take a long, hard look, not only at the present, but the future prospects for the community and immediate neighborhood.

Select a location where raw land and house values have an increasing price trend. Especially check into the zoning laws for any unfavorable change which could cause a depreciation in the value of the neighborhood and the resale price of your home in the future.

Remember—you can remove, replace or remodel a house, but you can never change a location. So choose carefully.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at EARLY REAL ESTATE, 60 Main St. Bethel, Phone: 824-2122, 824-2570. We're here to help!

evening' on the Biblical basis of missions through an exposition of the book of Romans.

Along with Mr. Eger, the following missionaries are scheduled for the Conference:

Charles Hibbard, missionary
with the American Missionary Fellowship. He was graduated from Glen Cove Bible College and has served in Ethiopia under the Sudan Interior Mission since January of 1970.

During the six and one-half years they spent in Northern Ethiopia they served in two different stations. One, an orphanage for boys, and the other a desert station, used to reach out to mud hut villages.

On March 31, 1976 they had to leave their station after the wife of the other missionary couple on the station was shot and seriously wounded by rebels on their station.

God, in His foreknowledge, had already been laying a burden for America on the hearts of the Hibbards. The (SIM) administration decided to send them home due to the increased fighting and tensions in Ethiopia. God had led them into a church planting ministry under their mission and they will be working in an area of approximately 1,800 square miles,
centering around Banger, Maine.

George Hicks, missionary with the Maranatha Bible Institute. He was born again at the age of 14.
After high school he went to the New Brunswick Bible Institute
where he graduated in 1965.
George and Anne were married Sept. 23, 1966 and afterwards took up the responsibilities of pastoring the church in Wellington, Maine for over three and a half years. It was during this time that God called them to serve Him

in Brazil.

After being accepted as missionaries to Brazil, they served as a summer as interim pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Mon-ton, New Brunswick, Canada.

The Hicks arrived in Fortaleza, Brazil in September of 1972 where they spent a year studying Portuguese. After their year of Language School they moved 150 miles interior to the city of So-bral (population 70,000) where they served until June of 1976. Today
there is a small church in Sobral with a national pastor. Lord willing they will return to Fortaleza, Brazil in July of 1977 where they will work with the Maranatha Bible Institute and Seminary. George will be traveling with Theological Education by Extension (TEE) and teaching Basic Music at the Seminary. Along with this George will be developing a cassette ministry.

Rev. M. Lester Strout is pastor of Calvary Congregational Church.
The public is invited to attend
the services held at 9:30 a. m.
with a Bible Study at 6:30 p. m.
and evening service.

added duties fall to the chairman. Certain hazards do exist for the chairman however, because of being more visible, the person holding the position does present a better target of opportunity.

By serving on a school board a citizen does not surrender their rights they have, except that neither they nor their husbands or wives may be a full time employee of the school district where they are a board member.

Bethel Selectmen, make your decision on the merits of the application. The facts gathered by you or that are presented to you.
It may well be true that the time has arrived to slow the proliferation of local alcohol outlets.

A careful determination should be made of the necessity, potential safety hazards and possible effect on the community. Base not your decision on the socio-political-economic standing of the applicants, for while precedent may exist for that manner of decision-making it is discriminatory no matter how you slice it. Discrimination, as the writer Leo Rosten has said, should be a "matter of private preference,
not of public policy."

We still have, as John Adams said, "a government of laws, not men; or women, as the gender may be."

TELESTAR SCIENCE

I always thought that I would like to become a teacher. Now I know.

For the past three weeks I have had the opportunity to teach. I really enjoyed working with all of the children. I feel I have accomplished something. Being able to show how to do something and getting through to them. Some children are slower than others and yet you somehow know how to deal with their problem. I feel deep down a great sensation when I get through to a person.

This was a good experience being able to work with children of different learning abilities. It helped me to realize that teaching isn't all fun and games. I think now I can learn to cope with different types of students. The students were very cooperative. They respected me even though I'm still a student myself.

enights have been scheduled for all girls on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with hopes of a day trip possible on Tuesday. Girls may attend that do not wish to stay overnight but will have to provide their own transportation as buses will not be running during this time.

Registration has started and girls are urged to register early as 75 girls will be accepted. Some staff members have been enlisted but many others are needed. Staff members are also needed for working with girls in the out-of-doors. Interesting to note, a mother who works on the staff may bring two daughters to camp as Scouts free of charge. Persons interested in volunteering their time for this week may contact Mrs. Ellingwood.

Other staff members announced to date for particular areas are Assistant Director, Sandra Poland, West Paris; Nurses, Elinor Goodwin, Norway; and Swimming Instructor, Liza Lawrence, Otisfield. Camp aides are also needed for each unit. These are girls going into the ninth grade and up who enjoy working with younger girls in all areas of camping in the out-of-doors. Interested girls should contact Sandra Poland.

A word of appreciation to Jay Davis and his Gould Academy crew for their commendable job of cleaning up litter along Songo Pond and Route 5.

My thermometer read just 20° at 5:30 Wednesday morning.

The lower end of Songo is clear of ice and the upper end, but still a belt in the middle.

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

The planning board met at the school house Saturday evening with all members present. Officers elected were: chairman, Allen Murphy; Vice chairman, Richard Leconte; Secretary, Larry Wade; Asst. Sec., Leslie Aron. Allen spoke of new Federal regulations about to come into effect. I wonder if the American Indians experienced the helpless feeling and the fear of being squeezed out of existence as some of us do now. I'm sure some of the earlier Americans must have been very sad when others helped the squeezers for bables.

The selectmen held a meeting at the schoolhouse Saturday evening. After the meeting they joined with the planning board in a discussion of dump problems and other town affairs.

Horace Goodrum Jr., spent the week end in town with family, friends and motorcycles.

Some people have been burning brush and grass and forest warden Al Roberts was kept busy as people saw billowing smoke and inquired about it.

Mrs. David Shaw

SHAW - HATHAWAY

The Bryant Pond Baptist Church was the scene of a lovely spring wedding on April 16 when Miss Joy Hathaway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hathaway, became the bride of David Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shaw, Jr., of South Paris. Rev. Roland Lord, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Linwood Hanson of the Bryant Pond Baptist Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown with a train of lace over satin. It was fashioned with a stand-up collar and seed pearls on the bodice. She carried an arrangement of daisies and carnations trimmed with lace streamers.

Mrs. DiAnne Leighton, attended her sister as matron of honor. Dottie Eaton, Rowley, Mass., and Robin Curtis, Pembroke, were the bridesmaids. DiAnne's gown was light blue with daisies. Dottie's gown was light pink with daisies and Robin's gown was light orange with daisies. The attendants carried daisies in color to match their dresses. The flower girl, Suzy Merrill, niece of the groom, wore a light green long gown and carried a basket of spring colored daisies. The bride made her attendants' dresses.

Serving the groom as best man was Peter Parzale of Lynchburg, Va. The ushers were Stephen Shaw and James Shaw, brothers of the groom. The ring bearer was Conrad Shaw, nephew of the groom. They all wore light blue tuxedos with black pants and wore white carnations with a touch of blue.

Wedding music was provided by Miss Susan Hathaway, at both the wedding and the reception.

The reception was held at the Woodstock Gym with Miss Liz Shaw circulating the guest book. Miss Janet Shaw was in charge of the punch and coffee.

Assisting at the refreshment table were Mrs. Leora Farrington, Mrs. Verna Swan, and Mrs. Andrea Hoyt.

Displaying gifts were Mrs. Gail Baker and Mrs. Mary Plawlock, cousins of the bride.

The wedding cake was made and served by Mrs. Nita Theriault, sister of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are graduates of Glen Cove Christian Academy. Mrs. Shaw attended Glen Cove Bible College and is now employed as a nurses aide at Ledgeview Nursing Home. Mr. Shaw attended Moody Bible Institute and is now employed at Shaw Farms.

After a honeymoon to Chicago they will reside in a trailer at Shaw Farms in South Paris.
